

July 28, 2020

Regarding "Activity Guidelines for preventing the spread of COVID-19 (Tsuru University)"

Seiji Fukuda, Chief of Headquarters for COVID-19 Infection Prevention Measures, Tsuru University

As measures against COVID-19, we have established guidelines for swift and appropriate activities, relating to various university activities.

The restriction level for activities may change depending on the occurrence of infectious disease. In line with this, The Tsuru University Headquarters for COVID-19 Infection Prevention Measures will consider the various judgment criteria and comprehensively take account of conditions before making a decision. The published activity suggestions should, therefore, be regarded as guidelines and may be subject to review in line with the future infection status.

From time to time, please check the home page for restriction levels.

The current activity level is 2: "Restriction (medium)."

(Updated on July 28, 2020)